

ENT surgeons diagnose, evaluate and manage diseases of the head and neck

Shirin Jalili^{1*} and Ramin Ghasemi Shayan²

¹Islamic Azad University, Iran

²Tabriz University of Medical Sciences, Iran

Otolaryngology includes the care of patients through ailments and disorders of the Ear, Nose, Throat (ENT), in addition associated with constructions of the head and neck. ENT operation remains a medicinal subject expert by ENT specialists. ENT experts stand surgeons skilled in both the therapeutic and operating management of such well-being circumstances, which is why they are also mentioned to as Head and Neck Specialists. Haemoptysis is a rare presenting sign to the ENT surgery and area, then has possibly sinister aetiology. Adversative actions remain prevalent incidences in clinics that diminish from quality of treatment. Tonsillectomy and Adenoidectomy (tonsils), Myringotomy through tube supplement, Functional Endoscopic Sinus Surgery (FESS) and Sleep apnea inspire treatment stand three most prevalent ENT methods. Treatment of the nasal cavity and sinuses stays one of the prime assistances of otolaryngologists. Otolaryngologists take proficiency in management ailments of the larynx and the upper aero-digestive tract, counting vocal sound and swallowing disorders. In this article, we evaluated ENT operations and assessed management regarding ENT; in addition, the possible treatments used for it.

Keywords: Disorders, Management, Diagnosis, Head and neck, Surgery methods.

Biography

Shirin Jalili is from Department of Medicine, Islamic Azad University, Tabriz branch, Iran.

Received: October 30, 2022; Accepted: November 05, 2022; Published: December 05, 2022
